

CommuteInfo Connections - April 2012

CommuteInfo Month is Fast Approaching!

CommuteInfo Commute Options Awareness Month is a special effort we put forward each year. May is chosen as this special month because it includes National Transportation Week, National Bike to Work Day, National Employee Health and Fitness Day, and National Clean Air Week. The goal is to further encourage more people regionally to try using an alternative commute for the month, including transit, vanpools, carpools, biking, and/or walking.

If you have any events already scheduled in May, where you might be able to include CommuteInfo materials...just let us know, so we can get you materials and the event included on the calendar. Or if you would like to host a special event just to highlight CommuteInfo month, let us know that as well.
